

SITWORKS: FUTURE FOOD FEAST

Join the Conversation on Saturday 29 September 2012 at Bundanon. SITEWORKS: Future Food Feast will centre around food and sustainability with presentations, artworks and landcare activities for all the family led by scientists, farmers, artists and activists.

Gate's open at 10.30am with activities until 4pm and a special performance on the Shoalhaven River at 6pm. Entry is Free.

LANDCARE ACTIVITIES

Get your hands dirty planting a tree! Head on over to Haunted Point Paddock to do your bit for the major reforestation program commencing at the Bundanon Properties

JARED INGERSOLL

Our experimental community feast will be curated by Sydney Chef Jared Ingersoll, an outspoken advocate for ethical eating. Featuring seasonal produce from the South Coast it will make heroes of our local producers.

JENNY BROCKIE

Host of SBS's Insight, Jenny Brockie will be leading a conversation about how we can all afford to be 'green'. Panelists include Chef Jared Ingersoll, Futurist Michael McAllum, from CHOICE Ingerid Just, Shoalhaven Beef Association President Brian Tyquin and Director of Carbon Arts Jodi Newcombe.

ROBYN BACKEN PERFORMANCE

Join us on the river bank at 6pm for a unique sensory experience. Contemporary artist Robyn Backen's Last Word.

KIDS CREATIVE ARTS WORKSHOPS

Bring your own lemons and make old fashioned lemonade, as well as damper! Or try making a wallet or bag out of recycled materials with Bundanon Trust's educators. All kid's activities are Free!

RELATED PAGES

Siteworks home